SOME OF WHAT'S INSIDE FALL 2014

SJC JOINS STATEWIDE EFFORT TO TRAIN STEM TEACHERS

The Independent Colleges of Indiana (ICI) has received a $1.5 million grant from the state of Indiana's STEM Teacher Recruitment Fund.

PUMAS WHO ARE INVOLVED FOR LIFE

8-10

SJC alumni do their part to help students learn and also offer a helping hand to faculty and staff—even while off-campus.

2014 GRADUATES: A PROMISING FUTURE

12-14

On Saturday, May 10, Saint Joseph's College graduated its 119th class of seniors with Cassian Cheung '76 serving as the Commencement speaker.

PUMAS TOUT THEIR WORK ON NATIONAL STAGES

In early April, a group of six SJC Business Administration majors joined other Enactus – formerly Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) – members from across the country in Cincinnati, Ohio, for the 2014 Enactus United States National Exposition.

PUMAS RECEIVE GLVC COUNCIL OF PRESIDENTS' ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE AWARD

Saint Joseph's College featured 18 Great Lakes Valley Conference Council of Presidents' Academic Excellence Award recipients, up from 15 last year.

PUMAS GO PRIME TIME

22

The Great Lakes Valley Conference will once again garner a national audience as the Saint Joseph's College at University of Indianapolis contest is set to air live on the CBS Sports Network at 8:00 pm EDT on Thursday, October 30, 2014.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Alumni Association Board of Directors

There have been many changes at Saint Joseph's College in the past few months, but what continues to endure is the level of commitment that Pumas have with respect to the College.

Much of the strength of the College lies in the generosity of the SJC alumni through their time, talent, and treasure—which includes their support of the current students, faculty, and staff in a variety of ways. One of the most valuable ways alumni can give back to the SJC community is through the gift of their knowledge and experience.

SJC alumni are leaders in business, science, education, religion/church, and the arts. They are attorneys in public service, doctors, athletic directors, scientists, entrepreneurs, researchers, teachers, counselors, CFOs, and nonprofit leaders. They are running major corporations, advocating for the helpless, creating new consumer products, engaging users of social media, influencing budding intellects, discovering new forensic tools, coaching young minds, and motivating others to care for the earth.

But Pumas are not just about personal achievement. As they rise to the top in their fields, they have gained the wisdom that comes with experience and are now impacting the world with a mission. How fitting it is, then, that they influence a new generation—those who are about to embark on their journey to impact the world. What better way to make Puma alumni impact go twice as far?

In this issue, we have culled just a few examples of the impact that Pumas are making on the world, and in particular, on their younger counterparts. This past semester, alumni have shared their knowledge and insight with current students through speaking engagements in the classroom, judging competitions, providing internships and career opportunities, and networking for career advice and assistance.

Also in this issue, we see the path that this year's graduates have made for themselves with the help of SJC, especially because of their relationship with faculty. A growing number of alumni are becoming similarly engaged with our students, which creates direct and personal connections that benefit everyone for a lifetime.

SJC alumni enjoy fellowship and communication amongst each other—and now, more than ever, have extended these connections to campus through the mentoring and enrichment of those to follow in the 125 years of the SJC legacy.

SAINT JOSEPH'S CHAPEL RENOVATION PROJECT

The Fellows of Saint Joseph's College have adopted the 1st phase of 5 for renovation of Saint Joseph's Chapel. With a goal of $1 million, the first phase focuses on masonry restoration and Twin Tower reconstruction. To date, the Fellows have raised more than $906,000 and construction will be complete this fall.

SPECIAL FELLOWS SPONSORSHIP RATE

In celebration of the 125th anniversary of Saint Joseph's College, you can help us reach our $1 million goal by sponsoring a Fellow for the discounted rate of $1,250 pledged over a 5-year period. Think of it as $250 per year or $21 per month – a savings of $750. All proceeds go to the Chapel Renovation Project. Offer expires December 31, 2014.

SJC AWARDED $25,000 TO PROMOTE INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Saint Joseph's College has been awarded $25,000 from the Ball Brothers Foundation. SJC received the award through the Ball Venture Fund competition, which saw 45 submissions from 27 Independent Colleges of Indiana (ICI) member institutions. The award comes four months after SJC received a $1 million grant from Lilly Endowment Inc. to enhance and expand opportunities for its graduates to find meaningful employment in Indiana.

SJC is directing its $25,000 to its "Promoting Internship Opportunities Through Educational Collaborations in Northwest Indiana" program. SJC, Ancilla College, Calumet College of St. Joseph, and Valparaiso University are working collaboratively to provide career services that will increase the number of graduates who obtain employment in Indiana. The main objective of these efforts is to significantly increase the number of internships posted and filled in Northwest Indiana by the end of the 2015 calendar year.

Building on these collaborative efforts already in place in Northwest Indiana, the four colleges, the Center of Workforce Innovations, and Indiana INTERNnet plan to hire a part-time field representative to coordinate an innovative regional strategy to promote internship opportunities for the 2014-15 academic year. SJC, Ancilla College, Calumet College of St. Joseph, and Valparaiso University will contribute $15,000 to support the regional strategy in Northwest Indiana.

The Ball Venture Fund was created in 1999 to enable the Ball Brothers Foundation to take an active role in encouraging and supporting creative efforts at Indiana's independent colleges and universities. The program provides seed money for innovative start-up programs at ICI member institutions.

A Message from the Communication Department

Dear Alumni,

The Communication Department has restarted the major in Communication/Theatre and is hoping to start a list of possible internship and job shadowing opportunities for those students majoring in Communication. If your business or organization has an internship program that you feel would be a good fit for our students or if you would be willing to have a fellow Puma shadow you at your job for a day, please email your contact information to johnr@saintjoe.edu. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

Thanks,

John Rahe, Associate Professor of Communication, Director of Theatre

SJC JOINS STATEWIDE EFFORT TO TRAIN STEM TEACHERS

The Independent Colleges of Indiana (ICI) has received a $1.5 million grant from the state of Indiana's STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics) Teacher Recruitment Fund. Approved by the 2013 General Assembly, the grant program encourages the recruitment and retention of teachers in STEM fields.

With the grant, Indiana's 31 independent, nonprofit colleges and universities will collaborate to train more STEM teachers by strengthening STEM preparation for pre-service teachers to become licensed in STEM subjects; expanding STEM graduate course opportunities for teachers to complete licensing requirements in STEM subjects; and organizing course and other training for teachers to become certified to teach STEM dual credit courses.

As an institutional participant of STEM Teach, Saint Joseph's College will offer a Forensic Entomology course to K-12 teachers, including teachers preparing to be certified to teach dual credit at the high school level. Tuition is waived for participating teachers, who will also receive a $400 completion award for successfully completing the course as well as a stipend for course materials and books. The course will be held during the Fall semester of the 2014-15 academic year.

The Forensic Entomology course covers taxonomy of the carrion insects with extensive time dedicated to identification of the flies. Case analyses, preparation for court, and maintaining the chain of custody are also covered. The course is meant to enhance the understanding and perceptions of this specialized field of forensic science. SJC Professor of Forensic Science and Biology Dr. Neal Haskell, an internationally acclaimed scientist and key expert witness in the 2012 Casey Anthony trial, will teach the course.

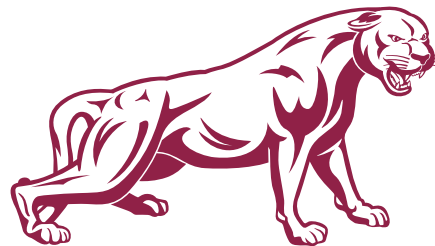

More than 115,000 new STEM jobs are projected for Indiana by 2018, with 40 percent requiring post-secondary education leading to an associate's degree, and 60% requiring a four-year degree. More than 200 Indiana teachers have already registered for Fall 2014 courses and workshops at ICI colleges.

"Our employers tell us that tomorrow's workers need more STEM skills, and Indiana's goal is to identify and encourage quality teachers to broaden our students' learning experiences," said Indiana Governor Mike Pence. "Continuing to recruit top educators and expand our students' options will not only enhance the outstanding work of our teachers, but will also help our students as they make decisions about future career opportunities."

Prof. of Biology Dr. Neal Haskell with a STEM teacher.

WE ARE PUMAS WE ARE INVOLVED FOR LIFE

This year's graduates have contemplated the impact that SJC has had on them, not only because of their relationship with faculty, but also because of the benefit they receive from alumni visits, advice, networking, and involvement in activities on campus. SJC alumni do their part to help students learn and also offer a helping hand to faculty and staff—even while off-campus.

Jacob Lofgren '05 Skyped a Law Class into "The Real World"

The Assistant Attorney General for the State of Colorado, Jacob Lofgren '05 gave students a real-world viewpoint of working in the Political Science field after college. Lofgren made a Skype visit to Professor of Political Science Dr. Peter Watkins' Topics in Constitutional Law class during the spring semester.

Lofgren had experience in a death penalty case. Watkins said, "I can certainly talk about these issues in a theoretical fashion in class, but he has had practical experience in these areas and I think that adds an important dimension to our discussion." Watkins added, "The other thing I think is really nice is for my current students to see is an SJC student who has done very well. That he's taken his education here and has had their experiences and has really progressed in life. He can give them some insights that I cannot."

Hearing Lofgren talk about his views on the death penalty added a new perspective to students' views. Stephen Nickel '17 said, "I think it was a great educational experience because it allowed us to see the career possibilities of our major as well as the work required to achieve our desired career." That alumni who do not live in the area are now accessible to students in his classes excited Watkins, as his class had a good discussion, both about the death penalty and about the life of a Political Science graduate after college. Since Lofgren was in Colorado, Nickel was grateful that despite the distance, "it opened a whole new realm of educational opportunities we never could have had before."

Lofgren went on from SJC to receive his JD from Drake University School of Law and an MPA from Drake University, both in 2008. He became a clerk for the Iowa Supreme Court for Honorable Daryl Hecht until 2009, when he became an Associate with Collins, Liu & Associates, LLP in Greeley, Colo. Now Lofgren is the Assistant Attorney General for the State of Colorado.

Capadona and Krouse Gave Talks to Students

On April 1, Dr. Jeffrey Capadona '00 met with students interested in a career in the sciences. Capadona joined students for lunch before speaking with them about how his education at SJC prepared him for an exciting and fruitful career in chemistry and biochemistry. Capadona graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry and was a baseball player at SJC. He earned his doctoral degrees in Biochemistry and Chemistry at Georgia Institute of Technology. An assistant professor of biomedical engineering at Case Western Reserve University, he is the principal investigator of Capadona Lab. In 2012, Capadona was one of 96 researchers named by President Obama as a recipient of the Presidential Early Career Awards for Scientists and Engineers, the highest honor bestowed by the US Government on science and engineering professionals in the early stages of their independent research careers.

On April 11, Kris Krouse '02 was a guest speaker in Core 6: Humanity in the Universe II. The lecture on environmental protection and sustainability took place during a portion of Core 6 that discusses environmental consciousness. Students and employees joined Krouse for lunch following the lecture. Krouse is the Executive Director of Shirley Heinze Land Trust in Valparaiso, Ind., a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the preservation and restoration of natural areas in Northwest Indiana, managing nearly 1,300 acres in Lake, Porter, and LaPorte counties. Krouse is a graduate in Environmental Science (Group Major) with a minor in Chemistry.

Alumni Served as Judges and Keynote Speaker at the 11th Annual Undergraduate Colloquium

Alumni participated in the Colloquium for the first time in 2013, serving as judges in the first-ever competition for scholarships on the 10th anniversary of the Colloquium. The concept was so successful that it was repeated in 2014. Once the student projects were vetted by SJC faculty, alumni judges evaluated student projects for connection to Core, creativity, and presentation, among other factors. They commented that the Freshman projects were of very high quality this year. Alumni who gave their entire day to SJC student competitors on April 15 were Ed Habrowski '71, Kendra Illingworth '93, Brienne Hopkins Hooker '03, Adam Kurtz '07, Elizabeth Gray '10, and Kynten Hannon '11.

The Colloquium keynote speaker was Monica Lohmuller '12, chemistry teacher at Benton Central Jr-Sr High School in Oxford, Ind. She shared what her SJC experience was like, discussed Core, and offered advice about life after graduation.

Monica Lohmuller '12 discussed life after college.

STEM Alumni Networking Night

On the night of April 8, students majoring in the STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) areas attended a networking event at which they had the opportunity to meet with SJC alumni in their major, discover the possibilities for their degree after graduation, and learn how to plan for graduate school. The event had a large turnout on both the alumni and the student side. The plan was to find two to three alumni in each major, and they ended up with four in most. The Lilly grant paid for a dinner out for faculty, alumni, and students, which was a chance to strengthen alumni-faculty ties.

Alumni who participated represented these areas: Biology—Nicole Harmon Lenzo '09, Wes Weber '12, Jacob Pelletier '11, Sherry Romine-Urbanski '11, Jerome Kotel '11, and Troy Huff '11. Chemistry—Lori Carey '02, Nick Herold '06, and Todd Huff '03. Computer Science—Greg Pulido '04, Steve Gredell '11, Julius Taylor '07, and Morgan Myers Balas '12. Math—Monica Lohmuller '12, Carol Lane Wood '74, and Stephanie Storer Crague '10.

Core Workshop

William E. Johnston, Jr. Assistant Professor of Religious Studies Dr. Michael Nichols '00 organized a Core workshop in May for faculty and staff. Alumni, considered to be an asset to the conversation about the Core Curriculum, attended for a day to participate in the planning for the upcoming year.

They represented a sampling of various majors and spoke about what skills Core gave them that helped them in their careers. Some alumni who participated: Michael Stang '73, Kris Sakelaris '82, Henry Ahrens '91, Shawn Hurst '94, Kristi Zurawski Bugajski '05, Brian Bugajski '05, Maggie Broderick '08, Kynten M. Hannon '11, Seth Sailors '12, and Jasmine Hall '13.

Our Puma Educators: Award-winning and Giving Back

Speaking to the success of SJC's Chemistry Education program and our Education Division, two of our Chemistry major—Education minor graduates have been named "Teacher of the Year" at their schools. Monica Lohmuller '12 received her award at Benton Central Jr.—Sr. High School in Oxford, IN, where she is a chemistry teacher and the JV Volleyball Coach. She graduated from SJC with a Bachelor's of Science in Chemistry and double minor in Secondary Education and Mathematics. Monica found a teaching position within a week of graduation. She believes that the experience she received as a Chemistry laboratory assistant and in the Education Department helped to prepare her for the classroom.

Monica Lohmuller '12 and Erin Hyland '16

Todd '03 (right) and Jennifer Frankowski Huff '03 are also active in the Fellows Program.

Todd Huff '03 received The Bill Hartke Teacher of the Year Award at Tri-County Jr.-Sr. High School in Wolcott, Ind., where he is a chemistry/physics teacher. He graduated from SJC with a major in Chemistry and a minor in Education. Awarded annually, it is based on popular vote by the students. Hartke was a math teacher at Tri-County and was an example of a model teacher. He cared for his students inside and outside of the classroom, he taught his subject well, and he never stopped pushing his students for greatness. A teacher who is nominated and receives the award shows all these traits in teaching during the school year. The comments Huff's students provided illustrate why he won the award:

He has made me excited for Chemistry II next year.

He has greatly increased my knowledge of chemistry this year while still being able to enjoy the class.

He loves his job and genuinely cares about his students.

He has so much passion for teaching.

Mr. Huff is extremely knowledgeable on all the subjects he teaches. He gives an educational, fun, hands-on learning experience.

I have learned more in his class than I have in any other class the entire year.

Huff is also an adjunct at SJC who teaches MBA classes and will teach Chemistry 101 this Fall; he taught a variety of Core courses in past years.

PUMA POPPERS 2014

The 2014 Sales class did not want previous years to outsell them, so they challenged themselves to “raise at least as much as last year did.” This attitude paid off as the class was able to match the 2013 Sales class and raise $1,600, which was done by selling Puma Poppers as well as taking donations. This year, the class voted to give their funds to Veterans of Valor. Veterans of Valor mission: “The organization exists to assist combat wounded veterans, and to provide unique items, services and programs to meet their specific physical, mental and emotional needs throughout the entire healing process.”

For more information about Veterans of Valor, visit www.veteransofvalor.org. For more about the class project, visit <https://sites.google.com/a/saintjoe.edu/teresa-massoels/home/puma-popper-projects>.

2014 GRADUATES: A PROMISING FUTURE

Here are career highlights of this year's graduates and their thoughts about how SJC has impacted them.

Business and Accounting

Alyssa Guarnaccia '14

Major: Business Administration
Minor: Communication
Hometown: St. Johns, MI
Operations Coordinator, Envision Experience, University of Maryland

"I have met some amazing people here—people that are one of a kind, and by surrounding myself with those people and certain activities, (Kairos, food pantry, Habitat for Humanity, etc.), I have become a better version of myself."

LaMichelle Sanders '14

Major: Accounting/CPA
Hometown: Chicago, IL
Staff Accountant at Legacy Professionals LLP, Chicago

"I am looking forward to putting my major to use. I like the location that I get to work in--the heart of the city in the downtown area of Chicago. With the help of the Career Development Center, I was able to do mock interviews and fix my resume. My professors gave me the necessary tools; they motivated and believed in me since day one. They gave me tips on classwork and on landing a job."

Colton Smith '14

Major: Accounting/CPA
Hometown: Coal City, IL
In September 2014, Colton will be a staff tax accountant for L.M. Henderson & Company, LLP, a full-service accounting firm in the Indianapolis area. Colton will help prepare returns for individuals, corporations, partnerships, estates, and trusts.

"All of my professors have done an excellent job preparing me for future opportunities. My baseball coaches helped teach me the importance of discipline and time management. The Career Development Center helped me with all of the business networking and Accounting interview events I was able to attend. These events helped me network with SJC alumni in the area in order to get my name and experience out there."

STEM

Lindsey Jo Park '14

Major: Biology
Minor: Chemistry
Hometown: Rensselaer, IN
Attending Indiana University School of Optometry this fall to become a Doctor of Optometry.

"The faculty in the Department of Biology helped me to excel in their classes. They were always willing to answer my questions with homework and have aided me to develop skills that will become useful in my career."

Matt Phillips '14

Major: Biology
Minor: Sustainability Studies
Hometown: Rensselaer, IN
Works for The Urban Canopy - an urban farming company in Chicago

"Spending my senior year intensely focused on the sustainability program is what I owe most to getting the career I wanted in the sustainability field. Things that were helpful were being a part of the SJC Student Farm, the composting program, the Green Pumas, and the actual curriculum of the Sustainability Studies minor. Without all of this at SJC, I would not have even known such a career existed, let alone how to pursue it."

Attending Indiana University

Bloomington's Maurer School of Law

"I was fortunate to be a Political Science major because the Core Program and Political Science seem to complement each other. Core helped me express myself by making me take a position on a certain issue and then requiring me to defend my position. Also, Core enhanced my research skills, which of course helped with my work in Political Science. I plan to be a lawyer who focuses in business/corporate law and either works for a law firm or works in-house counsel for a corporation. However, I know at some point I will become involved in politics because I have always been passionate about politics."

CHEUNG ADDRESSES SENIORS

ON SATURDAY, MAY 10, Saint Joseph's College alumnus Cassian Cheung '76 returned to campus for the College's 119th Commencement ceremony.

"My experience at SJC has had a lifelong impact on my career," said Cheung. "It planted the seed for my career aspirations and continues to provide me with the strength to handle difficult situations."

Cheung graduated Summa Cum Laude from SJC in three years with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. The senior class president and valedictorian, Cheung was a member of the SJC soccer team and managed the Halleck Student Center cafeteria's student workers. He went on to study at the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University, where he earned a Master of Business Administration with a focus in Marketing.

In his Commencement address, Cheung reminded the graduates to always remember to have fun and enjoy life's wonders. "You are embarking on fabulous careers, but don't forget to have fun," said Cheung. "I hope you will make an impact on and improve our world."

Cheung started his career on the international marketing staff for Swiss food company Nestlé and was first assigned to their office in White Plains, NY. He soon joined the international team and was relocated to Singapore, Hong Kong, and eventually to Nestlé's world headquarters in Switzerland. He became the first general manager and chief operating officer for Nestlé China in the late 1980s.

After 16 years with Nestlé, Cheung joined the Quaker Oats Company as the head of Quaker Oats Asia. After the acquisition of Quaker Oats by PepsiCo, Cheung was recruited to be the president of Walmart China.

Today, Cheung is an executive director and the group chief executive officer of Next Media Limited, Hong Kong's largest publicly listed Chinese-language print media company. He is also an independent non-executive director of Trinity Limited, a Li & Fung company specializing in high end men's fashion that owns several renowned British and French labels. He is a member of the Kellogg Alumni Council of Asia and an adjunct professor at The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology Business School.

VALEDICTORIAN

COLBY ALEXIS '14

Majors: Political Science & Philosophy

Hometown: Port Huron, MI

Colby received a full tuition scholarship to Northwestern University School of Law, ranked no. 12 in the US, according to US News and World Report. Colby was a Presidential Scholar and had applied to 13 colleges/universities, all of which offered him a scholarship, but he chose SJC. One of Colby's favorite courses was Philosophy of Human Nature with Dr. Malone and another of his favorites was the 400 level Constitutional Law with Dr. Watkins. "I participated in a law school summer program with students from the best schools in the country. I realized that I was better situated than most of them to succeed in our legal curriculum because of my background. The Core Program engages students in a way that no other liberal education program in the country can."

ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT

JEDIAH BEHNY '99

Behny is now the Superintendent of Schools for Charles A. Beard Memorial Schools in Knightstown, Indiana. Previously, he had spent the past three years as the principal of Knightstown Elementary School. After graduating from SJC in 1999, he began teaching and coaching at Anderson Community Schools.

Behny and his family live in Indianapolis. His wife, Megan, is a second-grade teacher in Washington Township Schools. Their oldest daughter, Grace, is five years old and is looking forward to entering the first grade.

In mid-January, Jediah and his wife welcomed Lauren and Caroline, twin girls, to their family. Caroline and Lauren are six months old and are very happy and healthy babies.

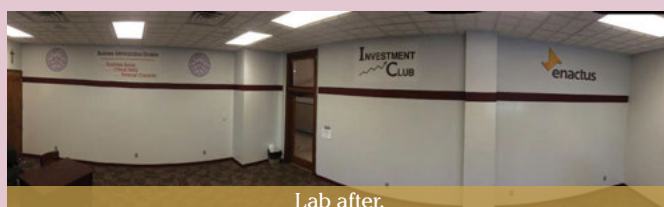

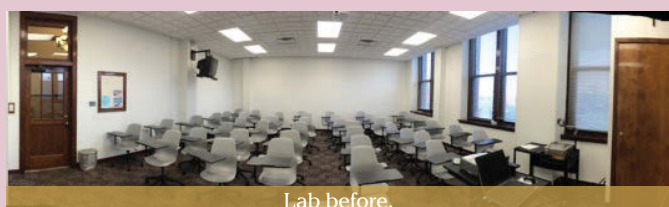

Behny shared his thoughts about SJC: "Choosing Saint Joseph's College was one of the best choices that I have made in my life. I was provided the attention that I needed to be successful as an undergraduate. As an Education major, I was in classrooms as early as my freshman year and was given opportunities to participate in leadership positions such as student government and the Judicial Review Board."

NEW BUSINESS LAB SLATED FOR FALL 2014

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION students have a lot to look forward to this fall. A new Business lab in Science 102 is under construction. It will have two 80" monitors that will project lectures, internet, and business television stations. Professors and students will be able to Skype. To top off the room, there will be a stock ticker, so that students can keep a closer eye on the market.

PUMAS TOUT THEIR WORK ON NATIONAL STAGES

Enactus United States National Exposition

In early April, a group of six SJC Business Administration majors joined other Enactus – formerly Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) – members from across the country in Cincinnati, Ohio, for the 2014 Enactus United States National Exposition.

An international nonprofit organization, Enactus brings together students and business leaders who want to improve the lives of people in need through entrepreneurial action. Enactus not only provides its members with multiple opportunities to grow their business skills, but also encourages students to use those skills for the betterment of humanity. SJC Assistant Professor of Economics Dr. John Kennedy serves as the moderator of the campus chapter.

At the competition, SJC's students presented projects they had worked on throughout the school year, such as Financial Guidance, Free Enterprise Day, and Consumer Support Agriculture. SJC's team included (pictured in order) junior Richard Arredondo, junior Joseph Krisch, sophomore Gabriel Perez, freshman Stephen Nickel, freshman Karl Keeslar, and junior Shawn Krager (not pictured). Competition judges commented very positively on SJC's projects and the direction of the club.

Arredondo stated, "I got involved with Enactus my sophomore year because I had a few friends in it and they told me how the club helps to empower individuals who are struggling in life."

As a member of Enactus, Arredondo has been able to travel to Springfield, Mo. for a leadership conference and Chicago for the Enactus Partner Summit. Through Enactus, students are able to travel, participate in competitions, and prepare to become future business leaders. Many corporations scout the competition, opening the possibility for internship and future career opportunities.

O'REILLY OPEN SOURCE CONFERENCE (OSCON)

FOUR REPRESENTATIVES OF Saint Joseph's College attended the 2014 O'Reilly Open Source Conference (OSCON), the premier gathering of the open source community, in Portland, Ore. The group was led by SJC Assistant Professor of Computer Science Brian Capouch, who has presented at the conference four straight years.

The group presented the findings it made while investigating various aspects of Web Real-Time Communication (webRTC) as part of a special topics in Computer Science class. webRTC allows a browser to conduct audio, video, and screen sharing with another browser without the need for a server to act as a middleman. webRTC includes such applications as Google Hangouts and a few other very new products. The class limited itself to only working with applications that are open source.

Open source products develop, via universal access, free licensing to a product's design or blueprint and universal redistribution of that design or blueprint, including subsequent improvements to it by anyone.

The four students involved – all Computer Science majors – were recent graduates Alex Yong '14 and Steven Quella '14, senior Nathan Samano, and junior Danilo Zekovic. Zekovic was unable to attend the conference as he is serving a summer internship in Eastern Europe.

"What we found was a vibrant, chaotic, and very active community of developers who represent a stunning range of talents and vision," said Capouch. "It has been common to find useful applications and toolkits that have been abandoned by their developers, products which exhibit only a small portion of the functionality they advertise, or which have unsavory side effects on the systems with which they interact."

Capouch sees the opportunity he and the students had to present at the conference as a validation of SJC's approach to education. Recent Computer Science graduates from SJC have found work in fields such as consultancy, academic computing, and high-tech research and development.

"We are doing things that catch the interest of those who are charged with deciding what is cutting edge," said Capouch. "It validates the holistic approach we take to educating our students, insofar as most of the other educational institutions represented on the program were technology schools."

Logan '17 and
Ryane James '12

LEGACY SPOTLIGHT

LOGAN JAMES '17

I became very familiar with SJC because of my sister Ryane. I immediately fell in love with the atmosphere and the camaraderie between the students and staff.

A major in Digital Media & Journalism with a minor in Business Administration, my first year was filled with amazing challenges and opportunities. I was vice president of two different clubs (PAC and Cup o' Joe), President of the freshman class, and was very active with the Student Association and theatre.

I think my experience has been different from my sister's. Being in a different major, we have had different professors and classes. She was also a very active member of the cheerleading squad, and I, very active in play productions. My absolute favorite thing about Core is the discussions. It's truly eye-opening to listen to other peoples' viewpoints when it comes to certain matters.

Hopefully one day you'll see me in the credits as a worker behind the scenes, or an actor in television or film. I can honestly say that coming to SJC has been the best decision of my life. I love everything about this school, and what this school has to offer. With the friends, the classes, and the atmosphere, SJC is the best place to be. GO PUMAS!!

RYANE JAMES '12

I graduated with a major in Biochemistry. I work at a company called Quaker Chemicals as Site Chemical Engineer. I run the lab at Quaker, where we do testing for Chrysler. I do multiple tests a week so that Chrysler's machines run at top quality. I think I played a huge role in my brother attending SJC. From 8th to 11th grade, Logan spent many days on the SJC campus with me and got to experience the atmosphere for himself. So he basically grew up with the Puma family through me. When it became time for him to decide where he wanted to attend college, Logan knew immediately that he wanted to become an official part of the Puma family.

My experience at SJC was unforgettable. I made many memories with many people who will be a part of the rest of my life. Core made me realize that everyone has different opinions and it doesn't mean any of them are wrong. It made me open my eyes to the world outside of my hometown.

Attending SJC was the best decision I made when it came to choosing a college for my future. If I could go back to my senior year of high school, I would do it all the same. I am a proud Puma and excited that I have an SJC bond with my younger brother, Logan.

SJC FORENSICS PROGRAM

Q & A for K-12 Teachers of Math, Science, Engineering & Technology

Q: How is Indiana planning to grow the STEM sector of the state's economy (and the number of high-skill jobs)?

A: YOU! State leaders are committed to increasing the number and expertise of K-12 teachers in STEM-related instruction across the state in order to impact Hoosier students in grades K-12.

Q: How is that going to happen?

A: Through a grant from the Education Roundtable, the Independent Colleges of Indiana (ICI) has brought together a group of private colleges and universities to offer STEM courses and workshops for K-12 teachers, including graduate courses that can lead to dual credit certification.

Q: What does that mean for a teacher like me?

A: You'll have the opportunity to take courses and workshops free of charge, earn credits or PGPs, and receive a $400 completion award for each course or workshop successfully finished.

Q: Where do I sign up?

A: Go to STEMteachIndiana.org to explore available offerings and apply today.

PUMAS RECEIVE GLVC COUNCIL OF PRESIDENTS' ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE AWARD

In June, the Great Lakes Valley Conference (GLVC) identified a league record 285 student-athletes who earned the GLVC Council of Presidents' Academic Excellence Award for the 2013-14 academic year. The number of recipients of the award, which was first offered in spring 2010, increased by 60 honorees from the 2012-13 academic year. Saint Joseph's College featured 18 award recipients, up from 15 last year.

The recipients of the GLVC Council of Presidents' Academic Excellence Award exemplify the outstanding student-athletes in the GLVC. Each honoree exhausted his or her eligibility in the intercollegiate sport in which they participated and maintained at least a 3.5 grade point average throughout their academic career. The 18 Puma student-athletes represented 11 sports.

NEW STUDENT JOINS MEN'S TENNIS

When Shelbyville High School's Samir "Sam" Shammass narrowed his list of prospective colleges down to three, Saint Joseph's College was not on it. A chance meeting with SJC Head Men's and Women's Tennis Coach Reggie Sanderson changed everything.

A singles player on Shelbyville's varsity tennis team, Shammass faced Sanderson's son Luke, who has committed to play tennis at the United States Air Force Academy, in a tennis tournament. Sanderson approached Shammass and his family following the match and asked him about his college plans. Shammass shared that he had narrowed his list down to three colleges, but Sanderson convinced him to visit SJC before making a decision. One week later, Shammass and his parents arrived at SJC for a visit.

"My parents and I received a very warm welcome from the Office of Admissions, and we had a great tour of campus," said Shammass. "I learned about the Core Program and really liked the idea of an education with a worldwide perspective."

Born and raised in Shelbyville, Ind., Shammass has US/Kuwait dual citizenship. His father is from Kuwait and has five siblings who live there with their families. Shammass' parents and sister lived in Kuwait several times, and he traveled with his dad to Kuwait for Christmas. While there, he had the opportunity to play tennis with multiple ranked members of a professional club.

Following another visit to SJC, Shammass decided SJC was the right place for him to start the next chapter of his life. "My experiences with SJC have been very positive, and I am excited to meet new people that may become lifelong friends," said Shammass. "I will work hard to compete academically and athletically, and I hope to be a good representative of SJC."

RECORD NUMBER OF PUMAS RECEIVE ALL-GLVC HONORS

THE GREAT LAKES Valley Conference (GLVC) announced that more than 2,300 GLVC student-athletes, including 162 Pumas, received Academic All-GLVC honors for the 2013-14 academic year. This was the highest number of honorees in SJC history.

After setting a new conference record with 2,002 honorees last year, the GLVC's member colleges and universities shattered that mark as 2,318 representatives from the conference's 20 sports met the Academic All-GLVC criteria.

The Academic All-GLVC honor is bestowed upon student-athletes that have completed two semesters at their institution and maintained a 3.30 cumulative GPA or have attained a 3.40 GPA over their two most recent semesters. Student-athletes that have attained a 3.40 GPA and not completed two semesters are also honored. A total of 114 student-athletes recorded a perfect 4.0 GPA during the 2013-14 academic year.

In terms of total honorees by sport, baseball's 247 representatives beat out women's soccer's 243. Baseball finished third last season with a total of 195. Women's track and field, the 2013 runner-up, placed third this season with 212 award winners. The Pumas had 26 honorees in baseball this season, one shy of league leader Drury University.

The complete list of 2013-14 Academic All-GLVC honorees can be found at glvcsports.com.

PUMAS GO PRIME TIME

After being represented in its first two years of sponsorship in the NCAA Division II Football Championship Playoffs, the Great Lakes Valley Conference (GLVC) will once again garner a national audience as the Saint Joseph's College at University of Indianapolis contest is set to air live on the CBS Sports Network at 8:00 pm EDT on Thursday, October 30, 2014.

The conference contest, originally scheduled for Saturday, November 1, was moved to accommodate a national viewing audience in prime time as part of the NCAA Division II Football National Television Package. In addition to CBS Sports Network, which is carried in 100 million homes nationwide, the game will be offered to regional carriers and streamed live on NCAA.com.

Massoels

"The entire Puma Nation is excited for this match-up," said SJC Director of Athletics Bill Massoels '89. "The effort by both teams last season created an atmosphere that brought more attention towards future matchups. A national audience will highlight the GLVC and SJC in an unprecedented fashion."

"This is a great opportunity for our conference to showcase itself nationally," said SJC Head Football Coach Cory Sanders '07. "We have been allowed a platform to display the depth and competition the GLVC offers. This opportunity extends towards SJC and our players to get the same exposure."

SJC AT UNIVERSITY OF INDIANAPOLIS WILL AIR LIVE ON CBS SPORTS NETWORK AT 8 PM ET ON OCTOBER 30.

FIVE ALUMNI INDUCTED INTO SJC SPORTS HALL OF FAME

On Saturday, April 26, five Saint Joseph's College alumni were inducted into the SJC Sports Hall of Fame. The inductees included: Jamie Holden '04, Anthony Lindsey '08, Marc Macias '97, Joseph Koczan, Jr. '01, and Jamie Doerger Rickett '93.

Jamie Holden was a starter on the basketball team for four years and served as the team captain for two years. He was a part of the 2003-04 Great Lakes Valley Conference All-Academic Team and received a GLVC Player of the Week honor as a senior. Holden is the GLVC all-time leader in assists, as well as the holder of the single game GLVC assist record with 17. Holden is the all-time assists and steals leader at SJC and the single season assists leader at SJC.

Anthony Lindsey served as the captain of the football team 2005-07. He was named the SJC Offensive Player of the Year 2004-07 and received the Rudy Volz Memorial MVP Award four years in a row, an award given annually at Homecoming to the "player of the game" by SJC coaches. He holds three SJC single season records, including most passing completions (259), passing touchdowns (27), and passing yards (1,863). Lindsey ranks 21st in NCAA Division II history in career passing yards with 10,458 and 29th in NCAA Division II history in career total offense with 10,173 yards. He holds several SJC career records, including passing yards (10,458), passing touchdowns (87), completion percentage (.612), pass completions (900), pass attempts (1,470), total offense (10,173 yards), and passing efficiency (134.8).

As a pitcher for the SJC baseball team, Marc Macias was a member of the Great Lakes Valley Conference Championship team in 1995 and 1996 and the Great Lakes Valley All-Conference Academic team in 1996. In 1996, the team won 52 games – an SJC record – with Macias as a pitcher. Macias was a four-year varsity letterman, varsity team captain in 1997, and had 25 NCAA pitching victories, also an SJC record. Macias started 47 games and missed only three starts due to injury. He ended his SJC pitching career with 25 wins, 281 innings pitched, and 189 strikeouts.

Joseph Koczan, Jr. was selected to the All-Conference Outdoor Track and Field Team 1998-2001 in the shot put and 1999-2001 in the discus. He was the Great Lakes Valley Conference event champion for Outdoor Track and Field in 1999 and 2001 in the discus and an event champion in 2000 and 2001 in the shot put. Koczan was selected to the All-Conference Indoor Track and Field Team in 2000 and 2001 in the shot put as well as 2001 in the 35-pound weight throw. In 2001, he was a GLVC Indoor Track and Field Event Champion for the shot put and 35-pound weight throw, setting conference records in both events. For his accomplishments during the indoor conference championships, Koczan was named the 2001 GLVC Indoor Track Athlete of the Year. In 2000 and 2001, he was the GLVC Scholar Athlete of the Year. In his four years at SJC, Koczan earned 12 NCAA National Championship qualifying marks and competed at the 2001 NCAA Indoor National Championships, where he was named the NCAA Great Lakes Regional Field Athlete of the Year for Indoor Track and Field. Koczan currently ranks second in shot put, third in discus, third in the 35-pound weight throw, and ninth in hammer in SJC history.

Jamie Doerger Rickett came to Saint Joseph's College in 1989 and quickly established herself as a key member of the soccer team. Rickett excelled as one of the team's strikers for four years and received several accolades for her athletic accomplishments. She was named an Honorable Mention All-American and Second Team All-American, an Adidas Scholar Athlete All-American, and was the leading scorer in Division II women's soccer. Rickett ranks second in Puma history in goals (50), points (132), and assists (32). She ranked first in all three categories at the time of her graduation.

Reuter

Br. Rob Reuter, C.P.P.S. was appointed as Religious Advisor to the SJC President and an addition to President's Cabinet, replacing Fr. William Stang, C.P.P.S. '72.

Fr. Benedict Magabe, C.P.P.S., from Tanzania, joined SJC as Chaplain. For the past six years, Fr. Benedict has ministered as Associate Pastor at the Saint Henry, Ohio cluster of five parishes. Fr. Benedict was born and raised in Tanzania in East Africa. After high school seminary, Fr. Benedict joined the United Nations High Commission for Refugees (UNHCR) for three years to help the refugees from Rwanda and Burundi during the 1994 genocide. He attended the Salvatorian Institute of Philosophy and Theology, where he obtained his diplomas in Philosophy and Theology and his bachelor's degrees in Philosophy and Sacred Theology through affiliation with Pontifical Urbaniana University in Rome in 2006. Fr. Benedict was ordained a priest in the Society of the Precious Blood on June 17, 2006, in Morogoro, Tanzania. His first assignment was as Associate Pastor at Itigi, a Precious Blood mission parish in Tanzania. In 2008, Fr. Benedict joined the Precious Blood in the Cincinnati Province of USA and was assigned as the Associate Pastor at Saint Henry cluster parishes in Ohio until June 30, 2014. His hobbies are playing basketball, volleyball, and table tennis; and experiencing different missions and culture in the different places in the world.

Fr. Jeffrey Kirch, C.P.P.S. '98 has a new position in Rome, working at the General Curia of the C.P.P.S., the worldwide headquarters. He is Secretary General of the Missionaries of the Precious Blood. Among his responsibilities: ensuring that all of the administrative functions of the

C.P.P.S. around the world run smoothly, which entails various types of paperwork and keeping detailed records for the archives; serving as the notary for all official paperwork; taking minutes at General Council meetings; and working with the other members of the Curia in planning worldwide programs and events for the C.P.P.S.

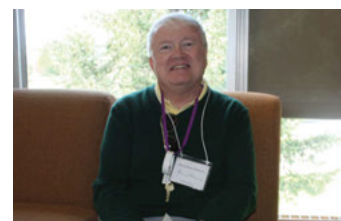

Hemmelgarn

Fr. Larry Hemmelgarn, C.P.P.S. '79 was re-elected as Provincial for the Cincinnati Province.

C.P.P.S. Retreat

Missionaries of the Precious Blood had an all-Community retreat July 14-18 to kick off a celebration of 200 years as a community, founded in 1815. Fr. Barry Fischer, C.P.P.S. '69, former Moderator General (international leader of CPPS), was the presenter of the retreat, titled "Following Francis: A Precious Blood Response to the Pope's Call for Renewal." The leaders of both the Cincinnati and Kansas City provinces (Provincials) took part in the retreat, as well as sisters (including Precious Blood Sisters), C.P.P.S. Companions (lay people who have formally become associated with the C.P.P.S.), parishioners of C.P.P.S. parishes (such as St. Augustine in town), and friends. The retreat focused on the connections between the founder of the C.P.P.S., St. Gaspar, and Pope Francis. More than 100 people attended.

Sorrowful Mother Food Pantry

One of the events Campus Ministry organizes that is becoming more popular is their regular service to the Sorrowful Mother Food Pantry in Wheatfield, Ind. They take student volunteers up there at least once a month. “Many of the families have handicapped members, or young children, and they simply cannot afford enough food for them all,” said Br. Rob Reuter, C.P.P.S. It’s roughly a half hour drive each way, and having such a short drive keeps the student volunteers from being tied up all day. As many as 15 students at one time have gone to help at the pantry. Once at the pantry, there are a variety of jobs that students can do. Keeping shelves stocked, loading grocery bags with what the families request, and helping load the bags into the families’ cars are just a few. “So far,” Br. Rob is pleased to say, “the students who help are excellent workers: courteous, hardworking, never complain, and exemplify community spirit well.”

A Celebration for New Catholics

In April, two students were received into the Catholic faith—Alyssa Guarnaccia '14 and Emily Miles '15. They participated in what is called the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA). RCIA is a gradual process of initiation into the Catholic faith, and it is part of Campus Ministry.

Br. Rob Reuter, C.P.P.S., explained, “The program is done at all parishes during the fall until Easter, and we pair up with St. Augustine Church in Rensselaer. All of the adults from St. Augustine’s and SJC entering the Church go through the program together.” This year, Fr. William Stang, C.P.P.S. '72 celebrated the Mass and administered the sacraments.

According to Br. Rob, “At SJC, this ceremony, although important, is not unusual; we do it every year the Sunday after Easter in Saint Joseph’s Chapel. The ceremony is done during our normal Sunday Mass at 11:00 am, so the rest of the community can participate—anyone who wants to be there, Catholic or not, is more than welcome (and this is of course true any Sunday).”

Guarnaccia and Miles had been participating in classes that teach the basics of the faith since September 2013. A Music Education major, Miles offered her reason: “I participated because I felt a connection with Catholicism that I didn’t feel anywhere else. Words cannot express how joyful I feel now, confirmed in my life and home with Christ.”

A Business Administration major, Guarnaccia stated, “After attending Kairos and a spring break trip for Habitat for Humanity, I knew I wanted to take that big step in becoming Catholic, and I knew I wanted to do it through SJC. I am very happy that I did and I am privileged to have been given the opportunity to become closer with my family and my faith.”

Confirmation of Alyssa Guarnaccia '14 by Fr. William Stang, C.P.P.S.'72

Youth Retreat and Confirmation Retreat

Campus Ministry is constantly looking for new ways to interact with the public. Many years ago they began hosting youth retreats for nearby parishes. This year, two separate retreats were held in the spring—one was themed and the other was for the Confirmation of young Catholics. Each retreat was organized and set up by an SJC student. Business Administration major from South Bend, Ind., Joey Krisch '15 was in charge of the themed retreat, "Faith, Hope, and Love." Twenty students from three parishes in nearby Indiana attended. Krisch said: "The retreat went really well. We had great speakers and great small groups. I really think the retreatants got something out of it, too," said Krisch.

Palmyra, Ind. native Biology major Shannon Sacksteder '14 organized the Confirmation retreat. Another 20 students from two parishes attended—eighth graders and high school students from Saint Joseph's parish in Rochester, Ind. and All Saints parish in Logansport, Ind. Sacksteder said, "I loved having this experience to see how I could exercise my Catholic faith outside of church through hard work, compassion, and God's love."

Kairos Reunion

In order to keep the Kairos Spirit alive (Live the Fourth!) for those who have gone on Kairos, an annual Kairos reunion is held usually during February. The gathering begins with a prayer service, then dinner is served in the ballroom. Following the dinner is a slide show, which is put together by some of the Kairos alumni and shared with the group. There is also the opportunity for anyone to take the mike and share reflections on Kairos, on living the fourth, or on anything related to Kairos. All of the alums who are on campus are invited to the reunion and the dinner is done by RSVP.

Covenant House Donation

For the past 19 years, SJC has been holding a vigil and collecting items for Covenant House New York. Covenant House is the largest privately funded childcare agency in the US, providing services to homeless and runaway youth. In April, the men's and women's soccer teams got together in the Gaspar Center in Schwietermann Hall and packaged t-shirts that were collected this year. There were more new shirts than usual. The soccer teams were able to package 213 t-shirts for shipment to New York. Overall, the candlelight vigil and collecting shirts for donation has been a good thing for SJC. "It's just important for us to realize our relative wealth and to help those less fortunate. It's the Christian thing to do," said Br. Tim Hemm, C.P.P.S. '70.

ence in Boston, Mass., April 3-6. This annual conference provides professional development in STEM education for P-16 educators. This year's conference theme was "Leading a Science Revolution." Zimmer received a $15,000 grant from the Indiana Space Grant Consortium entitled "Increasing Capacity in STEM Fields Through Authentic Research and Hands-on Activities in Small Scale Sustainable Agriculture." The goal of this project is to provide STEM competency-building education and research opportunities for five undergraduate students through authentic, hands-on learning in small scale sustainable agriculture at the SJC Student Farm. The project, which is ongoing during summer and Fall 2014, also involves 14 student interns who serve as support staff and are engaged in related hands-on learning in sustainable food systems, community-supported agriculture (CSA), and the Rensselaer Farmer's Market.

Associate Professor of Communication Sally Berger was recognized for 15 years of service to the SJC community.

PFAFF OBSERVES ELECTION IN UKRAINE

SJC CHAIR OF the Chemistry Department and Director of the Office of Institutional Research Dr. Robert Pfaff, and his wife, Dr. Kathy Parkison, Interim Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Professor of Economics at Indiana University Kokomo and a Fulbright Scholar to the country of Georgia in 2005, traveled to Ukraine to serve as monitors in the nation's historic May 25 election.

Dr. Robert Pfaff with Ukrainian election workers.

The observation was through the US State Department as part of our country's treaty obligations to the Organization for Security and Cooperation (OSCE) in Europe and its Office for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (ODIHR). Prior to an election, ODIHR sets up a "mission" in the country holding the election to perform political analysis and to assess campaign practices, as well as provide ongoing security analyses and organize the volunteer observers being deployed for the election.

"Becoming involved in the democratization of Eastern Europe and Central Asia, noting that these are predominantly former Soviet states, is a logical continuation of the thinking of the Core Program," said Pfaff.

Pfaff said his motivation for observing international elections comes from his wife. During her Fulbright in Tbilisi, Georgia, she was invited by a team of United States Agency for International Development (USAID) workers to join them on an election observation mission to Azerbaijan, which borders Georgia to the east. She loved it and signed up with the State Department soon after returning home.

"I envied her adventures and signed up myself in 2009," said Pfaff. "My first deployment was to observe parliamentary elections in Georgia in 2010 and, since I was familiar with the country and its people, it was a perfect place to get my feet wet."

Pfaff and his wife flew into Kiev on Tuesday, May 20 for briefings. The two were deployed in the western part of the country, Pfaff to Ivanko-Frankivsk oblast, Parkison to Khmelnytsky oblast. Pfaff was partnered with a Polish woman who works at the Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The day before the election, the pair toured the area and mapped a course, which consisted of 10-12 precincts. On election day, the two traveled to their first precinct.

Ukraine uses paper ballots, and the voting booths featured blue and yellow cloths to provide privacy, and the ballot boxes were stationed in front of the Ukrainian Orthodox shrine.

When the voting closed and the counting of the ballots was completed, the balloting materials were loaded into a small car for the trip to the district election commission to be turned in. After many hours of processing, checking for errors, and results submission, the election ended with a majority winner, ensuring there would not be a runoff election.

"Everything I saw went smoothly and transparently," said Pfaff. "The Ukrainian people expressed to me their desire to move forward, to have peace and good relations with both Russia and Europe, and to have a government without corruption. I think they took a good first step."

MEMBER PROFILE:

RAYMOND BILLY '62

HOW HAVE YOU INCLUDED SJC IN YOUR ESTATE PLAN?

SJC will receive a percent of my entire estate.

WHAT INSPIRED YOU TO INCLUDE SJC IN YOUR ESTATE PLAN?

After being rejected by several colleges, SJC took a chance on me.

WHAT DO YOU HOPE IS THE IMPACT OF YOUR GIFT?

My degree was in Biology with an Education minor. I would like the money dedicated to those departments, in addition to the Cross Country team.

AT WHAT AGE/STAGE IN LIFE SHOULD ONE BEGIN ESTATE PLANNING?

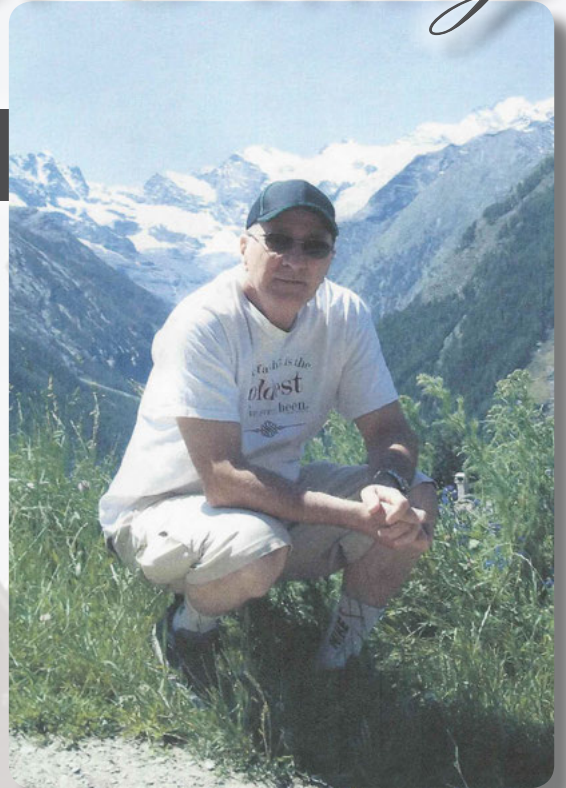

It should be done once a person has an established career. It can be refined at regular intervals during your lifetime, but you cannot assume you will have a long life.

WHAT WORDS OF WISDOM DO YOU HAVE FOR THOSE WHO HAVE NOT YET BEGUN ESTATE PLANNING?

Get started on it now. Don't let the state or others decide what is to be done with your assets.

HAVE YOU COMMUNICATED YOUR FINAL WISHES TO FAMILY/LOVED ONES?

Yes. My godchild is a lawyer and I'm in the process of revising my will and he will handle matters. He will be shown where I keep everything and given keys to the house and the folder with instructions and a copy of the will and all.

SAINT JOSEPH'S COLLEGE 125TH ANNIVERSARY STORYTELLING PROJECT

As Saint Joseph's College marks its 125th anniversary in 2014, we would like to celebrate by doing something that will be relevant not only for this year, but that will endure for many years to come—something that will engage and enrich generations of Pumas: storytelling.

As an alumnus/alumna, you are an important keeper of this SJC tradition. We ask that you share your most vivid and monumental SJC memories to commemorate the College's anniversary and to cherish for the future.

Throughout 2014, we will be gathering and capturing stories; we will be publishing these stories on the College website, in Keeping in Contact, and in Contact, as well as feature in campus displays.

If you wish, you may respond to the questions below to help tell your story. Photos are always appreciated. Send high quality JPEGs to cbs@saintjoe.edu.

MY PUMA STORY

Name:

Class year:

Major/minor:

What are your most vivid SJC memories? They may consist of people, events, projects, issues, circumstances, or situations.

Was there a monumental event that took place or something noteworthy in your time at SJC?

What was campus like when you attended?

Who/what influenced you the most?
